

Joseph Altfater

Joseph Herman Altfater

Joseph H. Altfater has made many friends in Memphis since he came here about six years ago from Lancaster, Ohio, his home town. He was born in Lancaster on Simchas Torah, 1903, the son of David and Lena Moskovitz Altfater.

Mr. Altfater attended primary and high school in Lancaster and after graduating at High, went to Columbus, Ohio, where he entered Ohio State University.

Mr. Altfater is engaged in the auto parts business under the firm name of Dixie Auto Parts Co.

He is connected with every worthwhile social and civic project and in most of the organizations with which he is affiliated, he holds an office. He is a member of the Sam Schloss Lodge B'nai B'rith, Vice-President of the Elks' Bowling League; Second Vice-President of the Memphis Chamber of Commerce; member of the Congregation, Children of Israel; Advisor of the Aleph Zadick Aleph; on the Student Welfare Committee of the B'nai B'rith College Club; member of the Big Ten Club of the Western Conference of Colleges; and a member of the Temple Men's Club.