Samuel Pearlman, the son of Nathan and Minnie Pearlman, was born in Mozir, Russia, in 1885. His father was an attorney, and gave his son an excellent education in both Russian and Jewish subjects. Mr. Pearlman came to Memphis in 1905, and started his career as a bookkeeper. He is now a certified public accountant, with offices in the Exchange Building. The family residence is 1453 Madison.

In 1915, Sam Pearlman married Raia Spiro, and they have two children—Lucille, 17, a student at West Tennessee State Teachers' College, and Joseph, 12, in Bellevue Junior High.

Mrs. Pearlman, who is the director of the Healthatorium, a modern health and beauty treatment emporium, at the family home, is a member of Icor and Senior Hadassah.
